CD-ROM & Book – Colonial Secretary’s Inward Correspondence

The Colonial Secretary kept two registers, of inward and outward letters. Inward Correspondence contains many letters from private individuals, either collectively or individually, as well as from Government officials, and contains a number of proclamations and instructions relating to the administration and structure of the Colony. When the letters were acquired by the State Archives, they were bound into 906 volumes and consequently microfilmed. Accession 36 contains the letters and Accession 51 is the Register of all Inward Correspondence.

CD ROM and BOOK – contain two data files, the first file contains the name of the letter writer, the date of the letter, a brief description of the letter, Volume and Folio Number (from Accession 36) and the corresponding letter number in the Accession 51 Register Book. The second file contains the name of the letter writer plus any names mentioned in the letter, date of the letter, brief description of the letter's contents and Accession 36 Volume and Folio number.
